KILLS TWELVE MEN.

Horrible Calamity Occurs In Greater New York.

New York, Nov. 20.—Twelve men were killed by the explosion of a gas main in an excavation at Gold and Front streets, Brooklyn. The explosion tore the street to pieces for rods on either side, and the twelve men, who were working in the excavation for a big sewer pipe were buried by the debris, which fell in upon them. It is believed they were smothered or burned to death in the fire that followed the explosion.

Samuel Trout, who lived near the scene, lost his life attempting to save a woman who was passing through Gold street, at the time of the explosion, and fell into a trench. Trout was caught by the flames from blazing gas main and roasted alive. The woman was dragged out of the trench and saved by a boy.

The accumulation of gas from the main, accidentally broken during the course of the work, exploded with tremendous force. The supporting timbers were ripped away and the high dirt walls toppled on the men.

A large water main also broken by the force of the explosion and a perfect torrent began to spout up through the mass of wreckage.

Almost side by side with these geyers roared flames from the gas escaping from the broken main.

Firemen and workmen from the city water department and gas company worked desperately together in an effort to check the flow of gas and water and to relieve the men who had been imprisoned. Nearly half an hour's work was required before they could be brought to the surface.

CROKER ARRIVES.

Tammany Leaders Gather to Greet Their Former Chieftain.

New York, Nov. 20.—The news that the Lusitania, with Richard Croker aboard, was sighted down the bay early Friday was the signal for the Tammany braves to get busy with their welcome for their former chieftain. A large excursion steamer had been chartered to meet the incoming liner. The Tammany vessel was crowded to the rails with politicians of high and low degree, who shivered in the keen November wind that blew in from the Narrows. Despite the chilliness, much enthusiasm was manifested.

The appearance of Mr. Croker's form on the deck of the Lusitania was greeted with cheers. He looked well and declared that he felt well. Beyond voicing his regret at the recent Democratic defeat in the state and nation Mr. Croker refused to discuss politics at this time. He will remain in this country for several months, renewing old friendships, before returning to his Irish home.

Mr. Croker denied that he intended again entering politics. He will probably visit southern California or some other section where the winter is not severe.

John Krause Suicides.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—John Krause suicided in the cabin of the steamer Adriatic near Queenstown, Ireland. He was a former special agent of the Pacific State and Sunset Telephone and Telegraph company, and was a witness before the grand jury found indictments against Louis Glass and Theodore V. Halsey of the same corporation for alleged attempts to bribe supervisors to vote against granting a franchise to the Home Telephone company, a rival organization. Krause left the employ of the company early this year, and was thought to have gone to Nevada.

Many Immigrants Arrive.

Galveston, Nov. 20.—North German Lloyd steamer Chemnitz arrived from Bremen with 300 immigrants and a large import cargo, consisting chiefly of holiday goods for merchants in the interior of the state.

Unexpectedly Expires.

Mineral Wells, Tex., Nov. 20.—Professor W. D. McGee, president of a Waco school, who had been here two months for his health, dropped dead in the Carlshad pavilion. He was supposed to be rapidly recovering.

REVOKES LICENSE.

This Action Is Taken Against a Company.

Austin, Nov. 20.—The department of insurance received a wire from Commissioner of Insurance Love, who is at Dallas, saying he had revoked the license of the Union Live Stock Insurance company of Dallas. This is a stock company with a capital stock of $10,000.

M. T. Robinson, the St. Louis owner of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball league, reached here today. He is in search of winter training quarters for his team. He may decide on Austin, although he will visit other points in the state first.

The attorney general's department has approved an amendment to the charter of the Texas Southeastern Railroad company, headquarters Dibrell, Angellina county, providing for an extension to Druso, Houston county, and to Crockett, Houston county, a distance of forty-six miles. The amendment also provides for renewal of the charter for fifty years.

Johnson County Burglaries.

Cleburne, Tex., Nov. 20.—Yeggmen operated near Cleburne. A Keene, seven miles northeast, the safe in Reed & Reed's store was blown open, $30 in cash stolen and a $25 postoffice money order taken. The cash drawer of the Katy depot was also rifled. The robbers escaped, leaving no clue.

At Joshua, eight miles north of here, the safe in Sam West's store was cracked. Citizens hearing an explosion ran to the scene and fired on the robbers, who replied with their revolvers. They escaped.

Warrant For Schlatter.

Fort Worth, Nov. 20.—A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of "King Schlatter," the divine healer, who arrived recently to organize "God's Army" with the assistance of "Prince August." It is alleged the king was trying to practice medicine without registering as a physician.

Bank Closes Doors.

Fort Scott, Kan., Nov. 20.—First National bank, one of the oldest in the state, has closed its doors. Deposits are $702,000, its capital stock is $100,000 and surplus $25,000. There was a two days' run on it. Bank Examiner Bradley has, at the request of the bank's officers, been appointed receiver.

Two Drowned.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Two persons were drowned and six others rescued from the water when an automobile in which they were speeding toward Chicago swerved from its course at the approach to Torrence avenue, bridge, over the Calumet river. Joseph Meyer and Margaret Atkins were the names of those drowned.

Party Doing Deed Unknown.

Memphis, Nov. 30.—Riding a head of an angry crowd of people bent on violence here, an unknown man standing with a rifle to his shoulder while a negro driver urged his horses to greater speed, took deliberate aim and killed Hainey Hill, a one-armed negro, and generally known as a "bad man," who had just shot and fatally wounded Gertrude Robinson, a negroess. Who fired the shot that killed Hill is not known, as the stranger calmly replaced his gun in the buggy and drove away.

Gee Convicted.

Waco, Nov. 20.—Thomas A. Gee, charged with mail robbery, was found guilty on three counts. It is alleged Gee stole mail pouches at Temple last December and rifled the sacks near Waco, throwing $50,000 worth of money orders and checks into a ditch. His home is at Navasota.

Fatally Kicked by Mule.

Jacksonville, Tex., Nov. 20.—Howard Cooper, nine years old, was kicked on the head on his father's farm, two miles north of here. His skull was fractured, the bone penetrating the brain. The little fellow expired some hours afterward. He was trying to lasso the animal.

Better Understanding.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 20.—A banquet at the Hotel Schenley marked the close of one of the most important conventions ever held by the National Municipal league and American Civic association as a result of delegates and officers of the two organizations all agree that a better understanding of problems of municipal and civic reforms has been established.

Moros Gather.

Manila, Nov. 20.—Several hundred warlike Moros have gathered near Malabang. Five companies of infantry with a couple of guns have been sent out to make a reconnaissance.

BRYAN AND NAVASOTA.

The Navasota Examiner reprints the Eagle's story of the serious accident to Mr. Robert Hamilton of Grimes county on his return from a recent visit to Bryan and comments thusly:

"We are indeed sorry to learn of the accident to Mr. Hamilton and would suggest, in this connection, that had Mr. Hamilton come to Navasota where seven 'big sales' are in full blast, he very possibly could have bought more goods for the same money spent and could have returned home on the train without injury. Now, Brother Eagle, this is not meant as a knock against your town, the many merits of which are duly appreciated by us all. Bryan is really a splendid town and she enjoys two as good papers as exist in Texas. We like you down here but will prevent you from infringing if we can."

That's the right spirit and Bryan reciprocates. The Examiner itself is a sufficient evidence that Navasota is not asleep and the improvements it is constantly making have been noted and favorably commented on by Bryan business men. Honorable competition is the life of business and Bryan realizes that the prosperity of Navasota, instead of a detriment, is a stimulus to Bryan. There is no glory in beating a laggard but exquisite joy in distancing one who does his level best.

Navasota is going after a broom factory. The Examiner says:

Several farmers have become interested in the matter and promise to go in for broom corn heavily another year if Navasota gets the factory. Its establishment would mean a market for a new industry and prove beneficial to a good many small farmers, at least.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Liverpool opened as due yesterday, viz., 3 points down, and as there was nothing in the way to retard progress there was a continuation of the decline to 4 1-2, at which the market closed.

Spot sales of 8000 bales were recorded in the Liverpool market.

The American market opened 2 to 3 points down, ruled narrow and closed practically unchanged from Thursday night.

The interior demand for spot cotton is good, and sales are made at relatively higher prices than quoted at the ports. This is taken to mean that the interior short interest is large and on the hustle to get the goods.

In Bryan, some large crop lots were disposed of Friday at rather fancy prices. This cotton had been held for some time and was brought out by the strong demand.

Friday's prices:

Low middling, 7 1-4
Strict low middling, 8 1-4
Middling, 8 5-8
Strict middling, 8 13-16
Good middling, 9c
Sales yesterday, 250 bales.

Liverpool is due unchanged to possibly 2 points up this morning.

LITTLE LOCALS.

The knife board man has opened up for business. There'll be a big crowd here today.

Basketball clubs of T. W. C. and West side school will contest for supremacy on the grounds of the T. W. C. girls this morning at 9 o'clock.

The furniture and undertaking business of Mrs. B. White of this city is now being closed out. Mrs. White has been identified with the business interest of Bryan for the past 31 years.

Sheriff Conlee yesterday arrested and jailed Frank Smith, colored, charged with theft of two wagon loads of corn, which he had disposed of on the Bryan market. The corn was said to be the property of Bill Long.

Advertisers in The Eagle receive the benefit of extra copies of the paper which will be circulated here today on account of the coming show. The Eagle is inviting our visitors to call again, and knows that the business element of the city will heartily join in the invitation.

Rugel, the half back for A. & M. met with a serious and regrettable accident during the game with Southwestern, Thursday, at which his shoulder was broken. Scarbrough was substituted and played a rattling fine game. He will fill the same position, it is understood in the Thanksgiving game at Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Adams arrived yesterday afternoon from Dallas and are at home with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Robinson, corner Houston and Fannin streets. A warm welcome from friends here, attracted during a previous residence by her many gifts, accomplishments and charming personality, awaits the bride.

Mr. W. H. Walker presented The Eagle editor a Japan persimmon Friday, which weighed 15 ounces. The fruit was dead ripe and sufficient juice had exuded to reduce the weight one ounce, otherwise, the specimen, in Mr. Walker's opinion, would have registered 16 ounces on the scales. The tree from which this was plucked ripened about fifty persimmons of the size shown. Fruit from this tree was awarded first prize at the San Antonio fair three years ago, and at the Brazos county fair held the same year.

Rev. Michael Kenny of St. Mary's University, Galveston, lectured yesterday morning to the pupils of the Villa Maria Academy. This well known orator and educator spoke on "Education and forming of Character." The lecture was an intellectual treat and was listened to with the greatest attention. Father Kenny preaches a triduum to the sisters of Villa Maria, preparatory to the Feast of Our Lady's Presentation in the Temple. On that day the religious all over the world renew their act of consecration to Almighty God.

COUNTRY LIFE HEARING

Three of the Commission Are Visitors at Dallas.

MANY FARMERS PRESENT

Number of Leading Tillers of the Soil of Texas Tell of Conditions and Give What they Consider Best Methods for Betterment of Farmers.

Dallas, Nov. 20.—In the auditorium of the commercial club there was a large gathering of farmers and business men to confer with Messrs. L. H. Bailey, of New York; Henry Wallace of Iowa and Kenyon L. Butterfield of Massachusetts, members of the commission appointed by President Roosevelt to gather information concerning the social, economic and sanitary conditions of country life and to make recommendation tending to the betterment of same, and report to the chief magistrate. These gentlemen receive no compensation, but are giving three months of their time to the work. The party includes four other gentlemen, namely, Dr. E. W. Allen, detailed by the department of agriculture as executive secretary; C. J. Blanchard of the reclamation service, detailed by the department of the interior and who is manager of the trip; Dr. C. W. Styles of the United States marine hospital corps, detailed

HENRY WALLACE.

by the treasury department as sanitary expert, and who, among other things, is making a study of the cause of anemia, and William Rice, detailed by the department of agriculture as official stenographer to the commission.

The commission began its itinerary on Monday, Nov. 10, at College Park, Md., and on the following day sat at Richmond, Va. There it divided, two members going to Athens, Ga., and two to Raleigh, N. C., and Spartansburg, S. C. The two parties met at Knoxville, Tenn., went to Lexington, Ky., and thence to Washington, where on Monday last, they met with the masters of the Orange, who were in session at the capital, with the secretary of the interior, with the postmaster general and with the delegates to the Association of Farmers' Institutes. On Tuesday they met with the heads of the agricultural colleges and experiment stations, and on Tuesday night left for Dallas, coming here direct.

Without any formalities Mr. Bailey, who is chairman of the division coming to this section, explained to those present the object of the visit to follow to be to gather facts relative to rural life conditions in Texas and receive suggestions looking to the bringing about of a better state of affairs.

Colonel O. P. Bowser of this city was first called upon by the chairman to answer the printed inquiries, which he did. The colonel also commented on conditions as he proceeded. He declared onions in the Laredo section are so sweet they do not smell.

Colonel Aaron Coffee of McKinney held that the proper remedy to improve farmers' well-being was diversification.

Mr. Kidd of Collin county insisted that something must be done to improve conditions. He contended that cotton was the only reliable crop in Texas. He and Commissioner Wallace had a good-humored debate, Mr. Kidd stating that in Iowa, Mr. Wallace's state, can raise the corn crop; that the farmers could hold it and were not forced to sell it as soon as gathered. Mr. Wallace's reply was that the Hawkeye state also raised considerable wheat and was not dependent upon corn alone.

S. A. Fishburn of Dallas county said the remedy was small land holdings. Mr. Henson of Grayson county asserted diversification was the remedy. He stated not one pound of cotton was produced by him, but that he raised corn, alfalfa and potatoes.

E. A. Calvin, ex-president of the Texas Farmers' union, asserted that the tenant farmers of the state, owing to being compelled to raise cotton, could never hope to better themselves, being denied in numerous instances, the privilege of having a truck patch. In answer to a query of Commissioner Butterfield Mr. Calvin stated the Farmers' union in this state counted its 200,000 members and 4,991 locals. He told of the work it was engaged in. In reply to a question from Commissioner Wallace Mr. Calvin said the average price cotton brought per pound was 8 1-2 cents, while it cost 10 cents to produce it.

President Neill of the Texas Farmers' union said the abolition of the New York cotton exchange would be a blessing to the cotton raisers. He also said the fleecy staple could not be profitably produced for less than 12 1-2 cents per pound. He also favored diversification.

E. W. Kirkpatrick of McKinney, praised President Roosevelt, who, he declared, took more interest in the people than half a dozen of his predecessors combined.

Citizens Held at Bay.

Attica, O., Nov. 20.—Robbers held several citizens at bay while they blew open and robbed the safe of Renninger & Hilcox of $6,000. The robbers were fired upon, but escaped.

Darwin R. James Dies.

New York, Nov. 20.—Darwin R. James, chairman of the Federal board of Indian commissioners, died at his home in Brooklyn after a brief illness.

Burned to a Crisp.

Brinkley, Ark., Nov. 20.—By a regular freight train crashing into an extra one Charles Clark was killed. His body was burned to a crisp. Four other men were injured. Lights on the extra train were obscured by smoke from forest fires.

Sunday Amusements Denounced.

Greenville, Tex., Nov. 20.—The North Texas Methodist conference adopted resolutions denouncing the opening of the State Fair of Texas, at Dallas, on Sunday, Sunday theater entertainments and railway excursions on the Sabbath.

Shot by Negro.

Fort Worth, Nov. 20.—Joe Pepper, white, of Sulphur, Okla., was shot and seriously injured by a large negro on a Santa Fe freight train en route to Cleburne. The negro attempted robbery. He escaped.

BRYAN, TEXAS, NOV. 21, 1908.

Forty carloads of plows shipped to one town in West Texas—this shows what wonderful development is in progress in that section.

If imitation is the sincerest flattery the Houston Post ought to feel complimented. More than one of the Eagle's exchanges are doing their best to travesty George Bailey's popular style.

The chairman of the houseways and means committee is Congressman Payne of New York and if the present congress enacts a tariff measure
it will be known as the Payne bill.
Let us hope the name will not prove significant.

Good lawyers say the indictment against H. Clay Pierce for false swearing is fatally defective and that the case will be dismissed or the indictment quashed. If Pierce were innocent he would not be content to escape punishment by taking advantage of a technicality.

The Henry Clay Pierce fiasco is billed to be pulled off in Austin some time next January.—Gainesville Register.

Very likely the trial will be a fiasco
but that will not alter the opinion people have of Pierce's contradictory statements made on oath.

The Eagle is in favor of any and everything that makes for progress and is not at all particular about what comes first. Let the city council, the Merchants' Association, the progressive league or anybody else authorized to speak for Bryan say what to do and The Eagle will help with all its might.

Among the resolutions adopted by the Texas Waterways Convention at Corpus Christi, was one demanding of the national government "completion of the Brazos river harbor work by extending the present jetty system so as to secure thirty-five feet of water."

The Brazos is the great natural waterway of Texas and its proximity to Bryan will prove of inestimable benefit to this city.

Henry Clay was thrice defeated for the presidency, yet no name in American history stands higher than his.
More than half a century has passed since his death yet he has more living namesakes than three-fourths of the presidents. If you have a promising boy on whom you wish to bestow
a name that will always be remembered and honored you will make no mistake if you call him William Jennings Bryan.

Hetty Green 73 Years Old.
New York, Nov. 20.—Without any variation in her customary routine while in the city, Mrs. Hetty Green, commonly known as the richest woman in America, allowed the seventy-third anniversary of her birth to pass by today unobserved. She paid her usual brief visit to her office at 170 Broadway, where none made so bold as to remind her of the fact that she had passed another mile-stone in the journey of life. Despite her years, Mrs. Green is as alert as ever in all that relates to business and she has often been heard to declare her intention of managing her vast financial interests personally so long as she is able.

Meeting of Scientists.
Huron, S. D., Nov. 21.—A good attendance marked the second annual meeting held here today by the South Dakota Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers. President L.
E. Ashley of Vermillion occupied the chair. Among the other prominent participants were Dr. R. C. Millenix of Yankton, Willis E. Johnson of Aberdeen, Mary E. Perkins of Sioux Falls, Superintendent Clyde Sloane of the Huron public schools, and Dr. L. H.
McKinney of Vermillion.

Johnson-Evans Wedding.
Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 20.—A wedding of note here today was that of Miss Nell Evans, daughter of H.
Clay Evans, formerly pension commissioner and consul-general to London, and Dr. Joseph W. Johnson.

Rose Eyttinge at Seventy.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 20.—Showered with flowers and many gifts of a more substantial character, Rose Eytinge today received the congratulations of a host of friends and admirers on the occasion of her seventieth birthday. For several years past the once famous actress has made Portland her home. When she retired from the stage she was possessed of sufficient wealth to keep her from want during the remainder of her days.
An unfortunate investment, however, wiped out her funds and left her in this city and to the proceeds was added liberal contributions from members of the dramatic profession
throughout the country.

Few actresses now living have a more interesting history than has Rose Eyttinge, known off the stage by the more prosaic name of Mrs. Butler.
She was born in Philadelphia, Nov.
31, 1838, and there received an excellent education. Literature was her favorite study and the stage had an irresistible attraction for her. She was still in her teens when she first realized her ambition to appear upon the boards. She had beauty, she had talent, and what is even more, she had ambition and the energy to conquer obstacles.

From minor roles she advanced to more important parts and her joy was great when for the first time she had the opportunity to impersonate
one of Shakespeare's immortal heroines. Her fame grew from season to season, as she added success to success, and charmed the lovers of the drama by the masterly presentation of Shakespeare's great heroines, Hermione in "Winter's Tale," Cleopatra in "Antony and Cleopatra," Lady Macbeth and others. For many years she was acknowledged one of the most brilliant exponents of Shakespearean characters upon the American stage.

Although the classical drama was her first love, she did not confine her talent to the interpretation of Shakespearean characters, but created important parts in many contemporary plays with equal success. Among these parts may be numbered Rose Michel, Amande Chandoce in "L'ed Astray," Felicia and many others. She was always good, but best in emotional parts, which seemed to suit her temperament better than all others.

After her marriage to Mr. Butler, who was in the American consular service and at different times held the position of consul-general in Alexandria, Cairo and Egypt. Rose Eyttinge left the stage for some time and traveled extensively in Europe and Africa.

In her leisure hours she devoted herself to literary work, proving herself equally clever as novelist and playwright. Necessity as much as inclination compelled her to return to the stage after a number of years. Although her youthful dash and brilliancy no longer fascinated her audience,
the refinement of her interpretations and her perfect mastery of emotional expression never failed to please, interest and convince.

Christmas Shopping.

Many of the merchants are beginning now to receive their Christmas and holiday goods and it is not necessary to remind anyone that the best time to select holiday goods and Christmas presents is considerably in advance of the date. Elaborate preparations are making at Coulter's for this great annual event and those who make selections, now will avoid the rush and crush of Christmas crowds, and have a complete stock to select from. At this time could be selected zephyr thread, Saxony yarns, knitting silks, knitting cotton, silk shawls and throws, etc. While in town this morning drop in at Coulter's and see this line. He has just received over $400 worth of these goods.

Mrs. Jolly Owns the Lamp.

The little guessing contest inaugurated by Mr. C. G. Walker of the 5 and 10 cent store proved to be one of the most interesting events in trade circles for the week. Readers of the Eagle are acquainted with the details of the matter, so it will suffice to say that with each 50 cent purchase a guess was given as to the number of tiny candy pellets contained in a goblet, given the one making the goblet. There were 2191 in the goblet. A parlor lamp was the prize striven for.

Mrs. Jolly was awarded the lamp on a guess of 2,165. Watch for Walker's future announcements in the Eagle.

The members of the local chapter U. D. C. are advised of a meeting to occur this afternoon at 3 in Carnegie hall. A full attendance is requested.

Too Much of a Tease.

Blough and Neighbors were chatting on the porch. Mrs. Blough was in the parlor near the window. Blough knew she was listening and wanted to tease her.

"Had a little experience today," he said to Neighbors confidentially. "Prettiest little girl you ever saw. She was sauntering along the street some feet behind a strolling couple. I was walking faster, and as I caught up with her I couldn't help looking at her, she was so pretty. She caught my look and smiled. I had no intention of flirting, of course, but that smile was irresistible. Then our hands touched accidentally, and we let them linger a minute. She began walking faster to keep up with me, and we passed the couple ahead together. When we got some distance ahead of them I mustered up nerve enough to speak. 'Good evening,' I said, and she replied the same very roughly."

There was a swish of skirts in the parlor, and Blough turned in time to see his wife vanishing toward the hall. "Thunder!" he exclaimed. "Of course the little girl was only about six years old, but my wife didn't wait to hear that. She's gone upstairs to cry now, and even if she accepts my explanation it means flowers and a party dress. What fools we husbands be!"—St. Louis Republic.

A Dull Letter.

"The only news I have to tell you," wrote the Billville citizen, "is that the river has riz an' drowned all yer cattle. an' yer uncle has broke jail; likewise the widdler woman you wuz goin' ter marry has runned off with a book agent. His Preference.

"You say this man stole your coat?" said the magistrate. "Do I understand that you prefer charges against him?" "Well, no, your honor," replied the plaintiff. "I prefer the coat. If it's all the same to you, sir."—Philadelphia Press.

Ordered Closed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 20.—The West Buffalo stockyards have been ordered closed, pending a general clean up and investigation of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease. The entire status of New York and Pennsylvania have been ordered quarantined by the department of agriculture.

All Escaped Injury.

Edwardsville, Ill., Nov. 20.—Two loaded cages in the Kerns Donnewald coal mine, nine miles north of Edwardsville, collapsed carrying with them to the bottom of the mine the entire hoisting apparatus and top works. Two hundred men were in the mine at the time, but all escaped injury and made their way out through the air shaft.

Drinks Bowl of Opium.

Los Angeles, Nov. 20.—Grief over the death of his emperor caused Gee Chung Chu, a well known merchant and politician of Chinatown, to commit suicide by drinking a bowl of opium. He drank the drug in a small bowl, mixing it with a solution of tea.

Draft Filed.

Dallas, Nov. 20.—The draft of the proposed ordinance for the Dallas Oil and Gas company was filed with the city commission today. The company composed of local capitalists having interests in the Henrietta field. They deny connection with the Gates company.

Sterne's Destitution.

Laurence Sterne, the writer, was the victim of the intensest poverty. A little time before his death, being in a state of destitution, he went one evening to borrow $5 from his friend Garrick. Upon arriving he heard music and knew that a party was going on. He heard the merry laughter and, gently replacing the uplifted knocker, retraced his steps.

We never feel our miseries so keenly as when contrasted with the joys of others, and it is only then that we realize Wordsworth's picture:

And homeless near a thousand homes I stood
And near a thousand tables piled for food.

Another story of this writer does not evoke so much sympathy. It was known that Sterne used his wife very ill, and in talking with Garrick one day in fine sentimental style of conjugal love and fidelity he said, "The husband who behaves unkindly to his wife deserves to have his house burn down over his head."

"If you think so," said Garrick quietly, "I hope yours is well insured."

Political "Pome."

The fight is drawing to its close. The noise will soon be gone. There but remains the last appeal that's due from More Anon, a few brief words from You Know Who as friend speaks unto friend, Justitia throws a final fit, and then we have the end. A "Note of Warning" there may be from Old Subscriber's pen, and Constant Reader may emerge one moment from his den. Vox Populi may raise a wall that pierces heaven's vault, insisting that the time has come when we should call a halt, and One Who Knows may yet, perchance, his stormy voice uplift and ask of all the universe, "Ah, whither do we drift?" But all the fighting has been done. There is no longer strife. So let us cut out politics and lead the higher life.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

Third Gin Burns.

Athens, Tex., Nov. 20.—The McLaughlin gin, at Eustice, burned. Loss is $4,000. This makes the third gin burned in this county recently and the authorities have proof that all were of incendiary origin. It is believed night riders fired them.

COMING NEXT WEEK.

Beginning Monday night, Nov. 23, N. Renfrow's Big Stock Co., the "Jolly Pathfinders," will open a week's engagement at the Grand opera house presenting a repertoire of new and exclusive high class successes. The Renfrow Stock Company needs no introduction to theatre-goers other than the fact that Mr. Renfrow has enlarged and strengthened the company in all departments for the regular winter season, until now it is conceded by both press and public to be the largest and best equipped stock company on the road and are presenting some of the most powerful and highest priced royalty plays ever attempted at popular prices. The patrons of the Grand can attend any of the performances during the engagement with the assurance that they will see something new. The play selected for the opening Monday night will be the great sensational comedy drama "Fight for a Million" This great play is brimming over with sensational and startling elements, exuberantly funny comedy situations, an intensely interesting plot with a pretty love story running throughout. The company is composed of high salaried artists of exceptional ability, both dramatic and vaudeville, and numbers 25 people, including a superb band and orchestra whose rendition of classic and popular numbers is considered a treat by lovers of music. The vaudeville artists carried by the company are the pick from the vaudeville stage and the specialties presented are new, novel and up-to-date. In conjunction with the above the remarkable moving picture film "The Passion Play," will be presented Monday and Tuesday nights have been set aside as ladies' nights, one lady being admitted free on one thirty-five cent paid ticket if reserved at Cavitt's drug store before 6 p. m. either day. Popular prices will prevail throughout the engagement. 15, 25 and 35 cents.

Federal Government Will Establish the Farm and Hold Institutes.

Mr. J. Webb Howell, manager of the Bryan Oil and Cotton Fertilizer company of this city is in receipt of a letter from Mr. W. F. Proctor, state agent of the Farmers' Co-Operative Demonstration work for the United States government, stating that as soon as he returns to Texas he and Mr. L. J. Quicksall, who has charge of the government experimental work, would visit Bryan, make arrangements to establish the governmental farm and hold farmers' institutes.

Mr. Proctor also writes that where this work has been carried on, in some instances the yield of cotton has been increased from 1/4 to 3/4 bale per acre, and the yield of corn from fifteen bushels to as high as thirty and sixty bushels per acre.

BUCHANAN-MOORE CO.

BRYAN AS A COTTON MARKET AND TRADE CENTER

TO THE hundreds of visitors within our gates this morning: Greeting.
The progressive, courteous business element of the city delights to have you here, and trusts that those who are among us for the first time will repeat the visit.

To the farmer who wants and should have the highest prices for his products and who wishes to receive full value for the money he spends is this article particularly addressed.

The Eagle claims that Bryan at this time is a better interior spot cotton market than any other town in Texas except one, and the price paid for cotton in this one town excepted is exactly the same as that paid in Bryan. Bryan buyers can afford to and do pay more for cotton than elsewhere, because they buy principally for export and ship on direct bills of lading, which eliminates cost of handling and reweighing in Houston or Galveston, thus placing the farmer in more direct touch with the spinner than he has ever yet attained. Some weeks ago a cotton buyer came to Bryan intending to open up an office here, but after a thorough investigation covering a period of four days he declared to The Eagle representative that the buyers already here were paying more for cotton than his limits would allow and were liberal in other ways. Inquiry among the leading cotton buyers here developed the facts stated in this article, that they represent directly spinners on the other side, and ship direct, on through bills of lading, cutting out reweight charges and commissions as already stated and these commissions which would have to be paid under a less direct arrangement, are added by the Bryan buyers to the price they pay the farmer. This fact is verified by the quotations published in The Eagle every day. Compare them with prices paid elsewhere.

Another point in favor of Bryan is the advantage it enjoys in the matter of freight rates. Particularly as these apply to the transportation of cotton will they interest the farmer.

From common point territory, the cost of carriage to the sea is estimated at 55 points. Owing to Bryan's favorable situation she enjoys an advantage of 9 points in this respect, cost of transportation from this place to ship's side averaging 46 points, a difference of 9 points, in the transportation charges which the buyers here also add to the price they pay the farmer.

These are matters which no farmer can afford to overlook and the fact that the wide-awake producers of this section are alive to the advantages to be gained by selling and buying in this city is evidenced by the increased receipts of cotton at this point which come from far away. On the average, the Bryan market is from 1/8c to 1/4c above that of surrounding towns, and this difference would certainly justify a long haul on a good list or even prove profitable on a small amount of the staple.

There is also a ready market here for poultry and livestock, and indeed all products of the farm are in more or less demand. One dealer here has bought, slaughtered and shipped over fifty thousand pounds of turkeys within the past ten days or so. This fact is mentioned to demonstrate or rather indicate in a measure the importance of this city as a poultry as well as a cotton market.

As a trading center Bryan's supremacy is so firmly established that a reference to the advantages to be gained by doing business here seems to be superfluous, but to those who are in the city for the first time, it may be stated that the merchants of Bryan carry heavier stocks of goods than are found in many stores in cities of 25,000 people; their goods are priced reasonably and they invite your patronage. Read the advertisements of representative houses in this paper which should be sufficient inducement to the wide-awake citizen who is alive to his own advantage.

Now, just a word or two about The Eagle: We have a pretty good list of readers, but we want more. If you reside on a rural mail route enjoying the advantage of daily service and are not receiving our paper, we would be pleased to put you on the list. One dollar in advance (always in advance) will pay your subscription for three months, and if you ever have anything to sell or need to buy anything, our market quotations or prices quoted by advertisers, who place their announcements in our columns, will, we believe, repay the subscription price many times over. Besides, you keep in touch with the affairs of the day throughout the world by a perusal of the telegraphic news which we print every morning and receive a full account of local happenings of interest. The paper will be delivered to your home during the morning of publication. We print from four to eight pages every day, and many of our readers are sufficiently pleased with the paper to encourage us with frequent words of compliment, which we appreciate. As stated, the price of the daily is $1.00 for three months, (payable in advance), for one month the price would be 40 cents in advance.

Those who are not so situated as to receive the paper daily, we would like to have enrolled on our weekly list. The price of the weekly is one dollar a year, payable in advance, (always in advance), and it is worth the price. We give a wide variety of news in the weekly; in fact, it is made up from the best which is printed in the daily and in future will contain the cotton market quotations for each day of the week, so that the trend of prices for a given period may be determined, or the price of the staple on any certain day of the week be readily ascertained.

We will be pleased to send sample copies of either of our publications to any who so request.

BUFFALO HEAD.

The Indian Medicine Man Whose Patients Usually Die.

Buffalo Head bowed with the weight of seventy-five years and the responsibility of his profession, is the medicine man of the Indians with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which will be here today. While the redmen are naturally skillful in the curing of simple ailments and in surgery of a certain kind, there are many more serious diseases which they do not at all comprehend, and for which they have no medical treatment. Such diseases they believe to be caused by evil spirits, which must be driven out by the dream power of the doctor. Buffalo Head's treatment consists of burning sweet-smelling vegetation to purify the air, of singing and praying to invoke the help of the power, of rattling instruments and making alarming sounds to frighten away the evil spirits, and of sucking and brushing off the skin of the patient to remove the mechanical causes of the malady. Usually, sad to relate, the victim dies.

The Eagle acknowledges receipt of an invitation from the Regents of the University of Texas to attend the celebration of the Twenty-fifth anniversary of its opening, the dedication of its new law building and the installation of Sidney Edward Mezes as President, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 25 and 26.
